Coal Probe Starts

Washington, Dec. 31.—After preparing the way for beginning of the investigation into the bituminous coal industry, President Wilson's commission today adjourned its sessions. Tentatively the commission decided not to assemble the facts by calling the miners and operators in person and will not visit the coal mining centers but will send out inquiries asking for data. When this is assembled representatives of both miners and operators from each field will be called to present arguments in open hearings. The central competitive district will be dealt with first.

Texas Wheat Short

Houston, Texas, Dec. 31.—Texas winter wheat acreage planted this fall, is estimated to be 1,077,000 acres which is but approximately 55 per cent of the planted acreage of 1918, according to E. M. Johnson, field agent for Texas. This marked reduction has been caused wholly by the excessive fall rains which prevented seeding, although labor scarcity has also been a factor. The greatest acreage reduction has been in the black land belt of north and central Texas, where but 25 per cent of last year's acreage has been planted.

SALES ON OTHER BREAKS AS REPORTED FOR TUESDAY

Lexington—Prices declined still further on the Lexington tobacco market and many growers refused to accept the buyers' offers. It is estimated the market was between 15c and 20c off prices ranging from $2 to $30 a hundred.

Lancaster—The Garrard tobacco warehouse reopened its doors after the Christmas recess with all buyers back. There were 89,135 rounds sold at an average of 48c the highest basket bringing 90c.

Cynthiana—There were 171,935 pounds of tobacco sold at the independent house at an average of $30. Prices ranged up to $101. Red tobacco was from $15 to $20 lower and the better grades were from $5 to $10 lower.

Flemingsburg—The Burley warehouse sold about 20,000 pounds of tobacco at an average of 33c.

Carrollton—The American and the Taylor companies' buyers were off the Carrollton market today, but there was more competition on the low and medium reds. Sales for the day were 102,850 pounds and the average 33c.23.

Mt. Sterling—Tobacco was unsteady to lower on common and medium red, but as high at any time during the year on fine leaf and lugs with color many baskets bringing above 95c.

Maysville—Tobacco here showed no improvement over the close yesterday, day prices ruling low on all common grades, little more than 100,000 pounds being sold. One of the leading warehouses men today predicted that the unusual prices for tobacco before Christmas would not continue and that farmers could look out for about the same prices at the close of last year. Withdrawal of the American Tobacco Company is mainly due to this condition.

Frankfort—Although the loose leaf tobacco warehouse sold only 35,000 pounds the market was strong. The prices went to $98 a hundred for before Feb. 1, 1920. All owing him must settle at once. J. H. Millon, Schott's attorneys announced before the opening of court their client will not be placed on the witness stand, and would not disclose the accused physician's line of defense by offering any testimony. It was indicated they would ask for dismissal and if refused, that a nominal bond be fixed a circuit court habeas corpus action in the event of an adverse decision on the bond matter.

CENSUS TAKERS GO TO WORK FRIDAY

Enumerators Hold Conference With District Supervisor R. B. Terrill Here Wednesday

If, at any time within the two weeks beginning Friday, a man or woman rings your door bell and begins to fire questions at you, demanding to know your age, color, nationality, and how much money you have, don't become indignant, consider your caller impudent and slam the door.

It will be Uncle Sam, and he is talking just the same way to every man and woman, wealthy and poor, in Richmond and Madison county, and his sole purpose, no matter how officious he may seem is to complete facts and figures necessary to establish the population and wealth of the city and the general condition and activities, of every citizen.

District Supervisor of the Census Robert B. Terrill, conferred with the enumerators for Madison county at the court house Wednesday morning.

Every question that may arise in the effort to obtain correct census of Madison county was gone over. Mr. Terrill met with the enumerators of Jessamine county at Nicholasville, Tuesday and with those of Garrard county at Lancaster Monday. Enumerators in rural districts have a month in which to complete their work. In the city they are supposed to get through in 20 days.

Much interest is being manifested in the census of Richmond. It is hoped on all sides that a considerable increase will be shown over the census of 10 years ago, which was 5,340. Many believe that the gain will be at least 1,000 population, for never before in the history of the city were accommodations as hard to obtain or houses, apartments or rooms as greatly in demand.

The census will record the number of families, as well as individuals, here, number of houses, apartments, dwellings, cottages, occupied and vacant, growth of the city, in area and population; increase in wealth of the city as a whole, and of citizens; degree of illness here; bank clearings; manufacturing output; sales totals, and information as nearly complete as possible, of every activity needed in making up a complete statistical record.

When the census is completed it will be compared with that taken in 1910. The 1920 census is the fourteenth taken by the government.

The men and women appointed to serve as enumerators of the 14th decennial census, are charged by law with the collection of all facts necessary to fill out properly the printed census schedule which each enumerator will carry when making the house-to-house canvass of the territory assigned to him. Each enumerator must visit personally each house in his district and make his inquiries of the head or some other member of the family who is competent to answer the census questions.

The act of Congress providing for the census gives each enumerator the right to enter every dwelling in his district for the purpose of obtaining the information required. Enumerators will carry with them at all times their identification cards and also their written commissions from the government which they will show whenever requested to do so. They are instructed to be always courteous and considerate, but in those rare instances where information necessary to fill out the questions is denied them, they are empowered by law to insist on correct answers. There are legal penalties for refusing to answer the census questions or willfully giving answers that are false.

Each enumerator is prohibited by law from publishing or communicating any information obtained through the census regarding any individual or his affairs. This obligation to secrecy likewise applies to all persons connected with the census. After the schedules are all filled out they are sealed up and sent to Washington where the information is tabulated by means of machinery, names being discarded entirely. No person, therefore, need fear that his personal affairs will be disclosed.

TOLL GATE LIFTED AT RIVER BRIDGE

Formal Orders Filed and Further Developments Hinge On Court of Appeals

The toll gate at Clay's Ferry bridge over the Kentucky river between Richmond and Lexington, is now open. No more toll for crossing will be collected until the Court of Appeals at Frankfort has acted upon the motion to dissolve the temporary injunction, which Judge Shackelford granted here, against further collecting of toll. And not then if the injunction is made permanent by the state's highest court.

The Payette county fiscal court acted upon the matter Monday, accepting its responsibility with Madison county for proper indemnification of the Clay's Ferry Bridge Company in the event that the Court of Appeals should dissolve the injunction. Papers in the case were sent to Attorney G. Murray Smith, representing Madison county in the suit. He filed the papers, as required by law, with Circuit Clerk James W. Wagers, here and upon proper notification being given officers of the bridge company, the injunction became formally effective, and the bridge was thrown open to free passage by the public.

Action by the Court of Appeals one way or the other, will be the next step in these proceedings, which are being watched with much interest, especially by the traveling public of this section.

FORD CUTS $8,000,000 MELON FOR EMPLOYEES

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 31.—Henry Ford and his son, Edsel Ford, announced today the distribution of an $8,000,000 bonus among the 80,000 employees of all branches of the Ford interests and the inauguration of an investment plan whereby every worker, from the man who wields a broom to the chief executives, may participate in the profits of the business.

The lowest award paid goes to men who are receiving the minimum pay of $6 a day and who have been in the employ of the various companies three months. It amounts to $50. The highest award goes to the skilled workers who have been with the company five years and who are receiving $10.80 a day. The bonus received by the latter amounts to $270.

The policy reflected by these announcements is not new with the Ford organization. The history of the company for the last five years shows that its ideal of industrial justice has always been high. In 1914 the Ford Motor Company announced a minimum pay of $5 a day since which time it has distributed approximately 100 million dollars in profits to employees. Following this Mr. Ford was sued by minority stockholders and compelled to pay dividends instead of reinvesting earnings and increasing wages as he desired. Sometimes later, however, came the announcement of a $5 a day minimum scale of pay and then the purchase of the holdings of minority stockholders by Henry and Edsel Ford.

No sooner was the organization in their complete possession, than they began to arrange for an additional distribution of profits with their thousands of workers and the results is the New Year announcement of an $8,000,000 bonus and right to share in the prospering industry.

Work more—
Produce more—
Save more—

But we can't continue increasing our production unless we continue increasing our railroad facilities.

The farms, mines and factories cannot increase their output beyond the capacity of the railroads to haul their products.

Railroads are now near the peak of their carrying capacity.

Without railroad expansion—more engines, more cars, more tracks, more terminals—there can be little increase in production.

But this country of ours is going to keep right on growing—and the railroads must grow with it.

To command in the investment markets the flow of new capital to expand railroad facilities—and so increase production—there must be public confidence in the future earning power of railroads.

The nation's business can only grow as fast as the railroads grow.

sheriff and deputy sheriff, on his own recognizance during the night just after officers from Hamilton arrived to escort him. Ohio, despite promises the Ohio officials returned without their prisoner.

If this is so, such contempt for law is not new in the hills of Kentucky. Just at this time, when the untold wealth of Eastern Kentucky is beckoning to foreign capital, nothing that could happen in that territory will ever prove a greater deterrent in securing the investment of outside capital than the allowing of such a crime to go unpunished. We have the name abroad of being law defiers. We clutter up our mountain ence of public opinion and lack of personal interest on the part of the public is responsible for most all of the barbarous outlawry that ever and anon breaks out in this state. It can be stopped and stopped quickly if sincere and active steps are taken by state and county officers and by the public.

Whether one more black eye will be given the material development of Kentucky by the outcome of such disreputable and disgusting outlawry remains to be seen. These officers will be punished for violating their oath, and accessories after the fact, thereby exonerating Jackson county and Kentucky from the odium of participation in the crime, or else they will squirm out of it without punishment, thereby inflicting a just brand of lawlessness against our Commonwealth.

It remains to be seen whether respect for the law and love of native land will triumph in the punishment of men who have violated their oath of office, scoffed at the power of the state and insulted all decent citizens.

Uncle Sam is doing his best to care for the boys who were disabled in the war. CHANDLER SIX

Famous For Its Marvelous Motor

Chandler Leads Where Performance Counts

WHEREVER men ask much of their automobiles the Chandler dominates. In the mountain countries it performs as many cars with larger motors do not perform. Climbing steep grades with the sharpest turns on high, creeping up and up at six or seven miles an hour on high without a miss or a skip or a sign of effort, where others shift, the Chandler holds for its driver the thrill of really satisfactory motoring.

In country roads of mud or sand, and in the congested traffic of crowded city streets, this same power and this same flexibility show their qualities.

The Chandler leads the whole six-cylinder group so distinctly because it is such a good car and so fairly priced.

There's no better time than NOW to place your order.

The Game

Fate deals the cards and, having dealt, is done.

From that point on each player takes command.

Fate neither cares nor knows who lost and won.

Fate has no say in how each plays his hand.

Play out the game, whatever else befall.

And at the end, from heaven unto hell, you'll find this test the greatest of them all.

There goes a man who played a poor hand well.

A 2 Reel Comedy and Travelogue Also

That synopsized "Jimmie Hodges"—now "Pretty Baby"—show which made its New York debut last fall will dispense its glories at the opera house here tonight by sheer force of speed, levity and generally happy, go-lucky atmosphere this synopsized musical treat, provides the sort of entertainment which every musical loving community likes. Built like a miniature "Ziegfeld Follies", without any palpable imitation therefore, "Pretty Baby" just rags and turkey trots from one frivolity to another. Always made enjoyable by musical numbers that have melody and merit, and by a cast of principals that could push a far less deserving piece to success. The luminaries are supported by thirty-five people.

Jimmie Hodges whose songs are being sung from one end of the country to the other is responsible for the show in its entirety. The cordiality with which "Pretty Baby" and its interpreters are greeted is proof positive of its merits. The artists and their high standing on the musical and comedy are the best in the world of make-believe the chorus, with this attraction are not Broadway beauties but each and every one is a dainty daughter of the south draped in costumes designed by the masters of modes and robes. No wonder "Pretty Baby" pleases the eye and ear.

ner Saturday in honor of Mr. Carl Gilchrist of Washington and Lee who accompanied him home for a visit. Besides the guest of honor, covers were laid for Mr. Owen W. Hise, Mr. Stanton B. Hume, Mr. Henry Che-nault, Mr. Galen White, Mr. William Martin, Mr. Marcus Phelps, Mr. T. Davis and Messrs. Vincent Johnson and James Stuart of Lexington.

Hepper, of Cincinnati, Mr. Price Turpin and children, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Marcum and children and Mrs. James Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Derringer, Mrs. Allen Turpin, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Turpin, Mr. Lloyd Turpin, Mr. Oscar Goins. Everybody enjoyed the day in this hospitable home.

The Sunday Leader says: "Mr. and Mrs. Keats Speed, of New York, are visitors in the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Harrison Simp-rall, and were present at merry family gathering on Christmas day." Mr. Speed was called to New York, but his wife will visit Mrs. J. S. Crutcher and Mrs. G. W. Goodloe during her stay.

Six O'clock Dinner

Mrs. T. S. Burnam entertained with a delightful six o'clock dinner Saturday evening. The house presented a most attractive scene, Christmas decorations being used in the parlor and a bowl of white narcissus was used as a centerpiece for the dinner table. Covers were laid for Misses Elizabeth Yager, Helen Rollins Bennett, Florence Burnam, Elizabeth Hume, Marie Bennett, Isabel Bennett, Maudie Reid, Messrs. Logan Rollins, Thompson McBrayer, and William Burnam, Curtis Bennett, and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Burnam, Jr.

Entertained for Guest

VanMeter-Berryman

The following is of wide interest here where the bride is quite popular having frequently visited Mrs. Hanger at Arlington:

A beautiful wedding was celebrated last evening at 6:30 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Solomon VanMeter on West Third street. The bride, Miss Evelyn VanMeter, one of Lexington's handsomest daughters is the second daughter of the home. The bridegroom, Mr. Brownell Berryman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Berryman. The marriage is the culmination of a pretty romance of long standing. The ceremony was performed by Dean Massie, assisted by Rev. I. J. Spencer the happy pair standing before an altar formed in the back drawing room, and plighting their troth in the presence of a company comprising members of the two families and closest friends. The bride wore beautiful gown of white ivory satin and carried white sweet peas and roses. Mrs. Ellison Capers, beautiful in a gown of yellow chiffon velvet, carry-

ELSIE JANIS HERE NEW YEAR'S
Comedy does not have to be slapstick. It is possible to arouse hearty laughs without seeing someone stumble over a two-base hit of huckleberry pies. This will be proved at the local theatre New Year's Day, where Elsie Janis will hold forth in her first Selznick picture, "A Regular Girl", by Frances Marion and Edmund Goulding. Delightful Miss Janis, after two years' absence from her public, returns with colors flying and, one also might add, with that famous dash and pep that has won her admirers wherever there is life and smiles.

"A Regular Girl" is a "regular" picture. In those days when the movies seem devoted chiefly to mou-tained villains and blonded heroines it's indeed refreshing to witness a photoplay that permits personality to overshadow sinister schemes and the well known "stolen papers" Miss Janis, as Elizabeth Van Renssler Schuyler, the up-and-doing daughter of a wealthy papa who delivers an ultimatum that daughter must earn $10,000 before he'll back a certain venture which she has in mind, gives an altogether brilliant performance. The cast is "regular," too, and presents Matt Moore (he's Tom's brother) as the brave and bold leading man.

Miss Edith Berryman, the bridegroom's sister, and Miss Katherine Foreman were the bridesmaids, the former in pink over orchid satin, the latter in blue and orchid. Each carried pink roses. The little ribbon bearers, Rebecca, the bride's sister, and Eddie Bradley, Stoll preceded the wedding party, forming the aisle through which the party reached the altar. Mr. Berryman's best man was Mr. Lucas Combs. Other attendants being Mr. Fred Ryan and Mr. Dan Estill. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Berryman left for a wedding journey followed by showers of rice and good wishes.

PALE, ANEMIC GIRL NEEDS A BLOOD TONIC

Pepto-Mangan Enriches and Builds Up the Blood.

Pallor, Headaches and Shortness of Breath Disappear

Pepto-Mangan Sold in Liquid and Tablet Form

Why should a girl or young woman continue to have a pale, sallow complexion and a listless, run down system devoid of energy and vitality?

Such young folks are continually unhappy and dejected simply because they accept such a condition as their misfortune, and envy their friends who are in the bloom of health and enjoying all the good things of life.

If such young women would realize that their anemic condition is probably due to thin, impoverished blood, which could easily be enriched by Gude's Pepto-Mangan, how much happier and attractive they would be.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is safe, beneficial and pleasant tonic for anyone suffering from any ailment caused by poor blood.

If taken regularly for a few weeks it will enrich the blood with thousands of healthy red blood cells that are needed to carry nourishment to every part of the body.

Pepto-Mangan is sold in both liquid and tablet form. Both contain the same medicinal ingredients.

Buy Pepto-Mangan at your druggist's. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Adv.
